NO. 22

The Convention.

The Democrats of Powell county met at Stanton Saturday as per call of the county chairman. Romulus Jackson was elected temporary chairman and C. N. Crowe temporary secretary. The convention went on record as Champ Clark being its present choice for President. J. M. Stevenson was indorsed for Chairman of the State Central Democratic Committee. Hon. W. P. Kimball, of Lexington, was instructed for as delegate to the National Convention at Baltimore. Luther Loving, A. H. Norton, M. A. Phillips, A. T. Whitt, C. N. Crowe, O. C. Atkinson, J. S. Ewen, J. D. Atkinson and Geo. Stephens, together with any other Democrats who might attend the State Convention at Louisville May 29th, were appointed as delegates.

Colored Folks' Excursion.

The colored folks will run an excursion from Lexington to Indian Fields tomorrow. Last year and two years ago Clay City seemed to be the objective point. We are glad to know that this year they favor Indian Fields and assure our neighbors of the Bluegrass that we are not envious of their guests. Any colored man can be an honor or a disgrace to his race, but the kind sent out by the Lexington excursionists seem to be of the disgraceful kind.

Roosevelt carried New Jersey by fifteen thousand majority over Taft in the primary of that State Tuesday and seemed to be a solid delegation. Woodrow Wilson captured the Democratic delegates by the same majority Dorie Wood, of Winchester, was visiting friends in the city the first of the week.

Decrease in State Taxes.

The total assessed value of all property in Kentucky for 1912 is $824,763,252. This is subjected to a raise by the State Board of Equalization of $15,715,912 and is $5,974,856 less than last year. In pursuance of the policy to raise the taxes of corporations of the State rather than of citizens, the Board of Equalization figures for this year show a falling off in total assessments on real and personal property, and there will be a decrease in taxes amounting to $20,873.95. The secretaries of the Board have completed their work, and the figures show the total valuation of all property to be $5,974,856 less than last year. The present Board of Equalization decided when it first met that the counties would be raised only where there was a great falling of assessment as compared with last year, and that the increase in franchise assessments would be made large enough to cover the loss on real and personal property owned by individuals.

High Priced Cattle.

Cattle on the Mt. Sterling market last Monday sold at the highest price ever recorded to our knowledge. Some 600 pound steers sold for 6½ cents per pound. This is an unusual price for stockers. We learn they sold well also at Winchester court Monday but we have seen no report of the sales of the Winchester market. A good market in the city coupled with an abundance of bluegrass in central Kentucky fully warrants the present high price of cattle. The indications are that they will go still higher rather than suffer a decline in price any ways soon.

H. L. Twyman, of Winchester, was here a few days this week.

Good Roads Convention.

A meeting of good roads advocates from Eastern Kentucky and Southwestern Virginia will be held in Bristol, Va.-Tenn., this summer to consider plans for a highway from Lexington, Ky., to Bristol. Virginia boosters are promoting the good roads convention and will set a date within the next few days. It is planned to inaugurate a movement looking to the filling in of a few gaps which will furnish connecting links in a macadam highway between the Bluegrass region of Kentucky and the border city of Virginia and Tennessee, connecting near the latter point with the continuous pike from Bristol to Washington and the highway now building from Bristol to Memphis.

Bell county, Kentucky, is taking the lead for this State and this summer will take a vote on the issuance of $600,000 for the building of turnpikes through the county, and it is highly probable that the measure will carry without much opposition. It is planned in the event the bond issue carries to connect with the Government pike which crosses Cumberland Gap from Bell county into Lee county, Virginia, and extend to the Knox county line. A good roads organization is being perfected in Knox county to create greater sentiment for better roads, and it is probable that a bond issue will be voted upon in this county. Other mountain counties of Kentucky are expected to follow with bond issues, and it is believed that the time is not remote when the Central Kentucky pikes will be equaled in quality by those of the mountains.

Embry & Co., of Lexington, Ky., have announced their big Summer Sale to begin Monday, June 3rd.

Reduced railroad fares on account of the Aviation Meet will be obtained during the week and this will afford an opportunity that out-of-town customers are sure to grasp.

This summer sale is being held a month earlier than formerly on account of the very backward season and will include an extensive assortment of tailored wool suits, silk suits, linen suits, wool coats, pongee and silk coats, silk dresses, separate skirts, waists, kimonos, petticoats and millinery.

The high class merchandise sold by this firm and the great reductions promised by them will make this sale the selling event of the season in Central Kentucky.

Clark-Sudduth.

Mr. James Clark of this county and Mrs. Sallie Sudduth of Clark county, were married at the home of the bride Wednesday May 22nd. The happy union, however, was of but brief duration, for the next morning they separated and Mr. Clark left her home for good.

Many people are out of town today at different graveyards in the county decorating the graves of dead relatives.

Waterson-James Co. to the Wall.

The Democratic State Convention which convened in Louisville yesterday elected Governor McCreary temporary chairman and re-elected Rufus S. Vansant of Ashland, permanent chairman of the Democratic Central and Executive Committees. Congressman James was defeated in this fight on the account of his combination with the bolting elements of Louisville, the leaders of which is Henry Watterson and the Courier-Journal. Wonder what kind of congratulations Champ Clark will now telegraph to Watterson? If Watterson and James are solely responsible for the Clark victory, wonder who is responsible for the Watterson-James defeat?

Ban on Low Neck and Short Sleeves.

The Western Union Telegraph Company, of New York thinks the girls working in its offices have carried the low neck and sleeve craze to the limit, and has had posted in the operating room the following notice:

"All office girls employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company are required to wear plain shirtwaists with moderately high adjustable collars, and sleeves that extend below the elbows."

June, the month of brides will be with us Saturday. So far, however, we have seen no Powell county wedding announcements. What's the matter boys, are "times too hard and money too scarce" for you?

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McGlone are visiting relatives at Morehead and in Carter county.

Fine Against Harvester Co. Sustained.

The International Harvester Company must pay a fine of $1,500 imposed in the Grayson Circuit Court, the Court of Appeals affirming the finding of the lower court. The action was a penal one brought by the Commonwealth charging combination to restrain trade. The jury found for the Commonwealth and this is sustained.

Died in Illinois.

Wildy Hiley died at Bloomington, Ill., aged 65 years. Mr. Hiley is a native of this county and is a brother to Mrs. A. J. Barnett, of Spout Spring. He visited his relatives in this country last fall when he seemed to be enjoying the best of health.

To Build High Schools.

Several of the mountain counties have voted bond issues of from ten to fifteen thousand dollars each with which to build high schools at the various county seats.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Douglas, of Levee are visiting their daughter, Mrs. George Garrett, and son, Mr. C. C. Douglas at Lexington, Ill.

Mrs. Mary Hoskin, of Miami, Texas, and Mrs. Ann Barnett, of Clark county, are visiting their brother, Judge T. J. Fletcher.

Wm. Barnett who has been in Illinois for some months has returned to the home of his father, Berry Barnett.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson secured the Texas delegation in the Democratic convention at Houston this week.

Democrats for Good Roads.

The Democratic House of Representatives has given the Good Roads Movement a flying start.

This fact is of momentous importance to the people of this nation. Ever since the Constitution was written there has been talk of improving the public highways. It remained for this, the first session of the sixty-second Congress, to actually do something toward bringing about that end. It required upward of a score of years to make a start toward stamping out railroad rebating, and the law prohibiting that practice was passed in a month after the start was made. Likewise, the pure food law lagged for seventeen years until an actual start was made. Within a few weeks after the talking was supplanted by action, the law became a reality.

The Democrats in Congress have injected the first breath of life into the agitation for better roads. The House has actually passed a bill, and as the matter now stands, it is up to the Republican Senate and President to carry the matter along. If they refuse, the people will know exactly where to place the responsibility. Now that the Democrats have taken a definite forward step the issue becomes clear cut.

In all the Democratic speeches supporting the bill for road improvement, which was introduced by Dorsey W. Shackleford, of Missouri, it was made plain that it is proposed to spend money that is now being wasted in keeping up useless political navy yards and to provide soft berths for lame duck politicians.

At the present time there is in existence numerous government "commissions," such as the Canadian boundary commission, on which former Congressman James A. Tawney of Minnesota depends for an annual stipend of $7,500 of the people's money. These commissions seldom meet, and their only usefulness is to take care of politicians who fail of re-election. The Democrats propose to propose to abolish useless commissions and to spend the money thus wasted for the improvement of public roads.

"Improve the public roads with money that is now being wasted" is the battle cry of the Democrats in Congress, and it is being taken up by the farmers in all parts of the country.

Speaker Clark telegraphed congratulations and thanks to Henry Waterson when Kentucky Saturday went for him for President as if the Courier-Journal alone was responsible for the way Kentucky went last week. The truth of it is Kentucky has never gone Republican only when the Courier-Journal and Henry Waterson have forced it to such desperation, and if Champ Clark is going to bed fellow with the bolting Courier and follow its advice in Kentucky, there is but little hope of this state going for him, notwithstanding the splendid victory gained by Democrats in this state last fall under the leadership of Governor McCreary. Real Democrats in Kentucky never for once recognize the Courier-Journal as anything but a traitor of the party it sometimes professes to represent.

Again this week we turn down a proposition to advertise for a Cincinnati, Ohio liquor firm. We think, as all our readers know, that every man should be a total abstainer; we believe also that advertising in the Times pays. Then for advertising to pay a liquor firm they would have to sell more liquor, and this we don't want them to do. We have lost hundreds of dollars for conscience' sake in this matter, but if we have only answered to a good conscience, we are far better repaid than if we had received thousands of dollars.

Three of our young bloods got too much liquor Saturday night and proceeded to "paint the town red". They found themselves arraigned before Police Court Monday and were fined $25 each and costs. It was not the boys that acted so ugly, but the whiskey that they had imbibed too freely of. The boys are all right and if they had taken our advice and been total abstainers they would have saved a lot of trouble and shame. Be men in the future, boys, and let liquor alone.

Some people are said to be engaged in the old practice of seining the river, now that it has got down low. This is not fair. Some will observe the law and do without fish when they have no luck with hook and line, while others get plenty of fish by seining. The boys had better look a "leettle out" as Circuit Court is not long off and Judge Benton has signified his intention to have all violators of the fish and game laws prosecuted.

If we only had a system of road dragging in Powell county it would be fine to use these drags after these fine rains we are having, and wouldn't it be come in handy for our farmers to do the work while it is too wet to work in their crops. The road drag is waiting to improve our roads if the people will only give it a start.

If Roosevelt had all the money he could spend in Ohio, as is undisputed, and if there are thousands of votesellers in every county, as is admitted, and was found to be Adams county last fall, and if Taft had only $25,000 in the State, the only wonder is that Roosevelt didn't carry Ohio by 100,000.

Much is being said about Roosevelt carrying Taft's own state of Ohio. It should not be forgotten that Taft carried Roosevelt's own state of New York in the beginning of the campaign. These men both seem to be unpopular in their own states where they are best known.

It seems that Nicholas Longworth, Teddy's son-in-law, knew what he was talking about four years ago when he said: "Taft four years, then eight years more of Mr. Roosevelt and then, well modesty prevents my saying who will occupy the White House."

Darlingsville.

NOTES from
MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Set the eggs while fresh.

Keep dirt out of the dairy.

It always pays to treat the cow with gentleness.

It is an error to feed a horse once only in 24 hours.

Both horses and mules should be given daily exercise.

One of the most common mistakes is underfeeding the dairy cow.

The age for working colts varies, with size, strength and maturity.

The life of a standard separator depends upon its care to a great extent.

Rye hay, properly cured, makes an excellent hay for horses, mules and cows.

Going to the shop over icy roads with smooth shoes may ruin your best horse.

Shorthorns bred with good judgment today are the great all-purpose cattle.

The best time to cut the tails as well as castrate is when the lamb is a week old.

Perhaps a hanking of the cow harn around the foundation would help keep out the cold.

Any man who strikes a horse in the head should never be allowed to touch one again.

The dairyman who puts a low value on his skim-milk admits his inability in his profession.

A regular time for salting the cows summer and winter will keep you from forgetting this chore.

The farmer who makes an effort to fill the corn crib and smokehouse each year generally succeeds.

A properly trained horse will stop as soon as anything goes wrong with the harness or his shoes.

Wild strawberries have the most delicious flavor. They are easily transplanted to the garden.

There is no better place for growing pigs intended either for breeding or fattening, than the pasture.

Clean up the yard and farmstead generally. Plan to set out a few more ornamentals next spring.

The development of the young horse requires the exercise of the best judgment in handling him.

The cheapest ration for the dairy cow is a combination of corn silage, alfalfa hay and cotton seed meal.

Oat-meal, properly fed, is considered by our best stockmen to be one of the most nourishing foods that can be fed.

A plump young turkey, dressing from eight to fifteen pounds, finds a market at almost any season of the year.

Good sheep require good care to maintain their excellence. Poor sheep are always a burden upon the rest of the flock.

Burnt or caustic lime is made by burning limestone, oyster shells and other such materials as are high in liming elements.

If you have never tried rape, raise a small field next spring. It is very popular with the hogs and does them a world of good.

Ewes that are broad and long will make good mothers and produce vigorous offsprings. In this way lambs of a better type will be produced.

In Memory of J. H. Burgher
Who died April 29th, 1912. One month ago today death entered our home and took from us, not only a well beloved husband and father, but a most faithful one. That in the death of our dear beloved J. H. Burgher, we have lost a most devoted husband and father that gave bright promises of even greater usefulness in the Master's cause; that while we submit to the will of Him whose ways are past finding out, it saddens every heart to think we shall see him no more; but although ours is a bitter loss, we know that we are unable to enter into that sacred sadness that envelops the home of friends.

There are other ties more tender than ours; other hearts that will keenly feel his loss. When our sorrows have been tempered by the flight of time, that a character like his was God's beautiful work in mortal form now raised to everlasting perfection, and that he leaves behind him the memory whose noble qualities are as a rich legacy for the imitation of his young friends.

That to a just God who is too wise to err, too merciful to deal unkindly with his children, we would point the sorrowing family and pray that His grace may comfort them in their deep affliction although the music of a father's voice is hushed to our ears, we feel assured that it is being trained to the melody of angels. G. W.

Honesty and Trickery.

What is our real attitude toward dishonesty? says the School Journal. How seriously do we consider trickery in either public or private life? How earnest is our condemnation of the successful cheat? Do we really and truly condemn the act of thieving, or is it the bungling thief who was not "sharp enough to get away with it" who meets our sincere displeasure? How do we punish successful tricksters and thieves? Oh, certainly, we let the creature who stole a loaf of bread, or a chicken or a coat serve a term in prison, associate him with worse and weaker than he, and turn him out again with the prison brand on him and therefore weaker and more desperate than ever. We do all of this to the man who attempts a small crime and is caught. But what of the man that gets millions dishonestly?

"I know enough law—what I want now is to know how to evade the law," said a prominent lawyer. Not for himself did he desire this, but that he might the better "win cases," in order that his bank account might swell. He won them, grew wealthy by turning criminals loose, but was finally disbarred from practice.

To us it seems that this is one of the greatest of the menaces to our national welfare—this seeking to evade rather than to obey the law; and the willing aid which is given those seeking such evasion.

Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourn, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache."

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."
